- Senior College Special Events – Martha Laitin
- Name Tags – Elisabeth Pollock (218-1102)

Senior College Office

The Office manager is responsible for maintaining the office and staffing it on Thursdays from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm when classes are not in session. The office is open Thursdays from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm during the class sessions.

Communications

The purpose of SC advertising or announcements, including but not limited to the website, E-news, or classroom announcements, is to promote Senior College, and to inform the membership and the community of courses, special events, speakers, or projects that Senior College is directly involved with. Volunteer opportunities and other community events that Senior College is not directly involved with (see following paragraph) are beyond the scope and purpose of the website, E-news, and classroom announcements, or any other advertisements, and are not permitted.

A Senior College committee or group is directly involved with a non-profit group or community event when the members of that committee or group have agreed, for some specified period of time (e.g., for the upcoming year, for a certain month, or for a particular date), that its members will participate in a particular non-profit or community event, at a specified time and place. If an SC committee or group merely urges (by mentioning or advertising) the SC membership at large to support a non-profit, or to attend a community event, then that does not count as “direct involvement” by the committee or group. To count as “direct involvement,” the committee or group members themselves must have committed to participate in some specific event (for a non-profit organization or in a community event). Given they have done this, if they also wish to invite members of the SC community at large to participate in that specific event, then that is permissible.

Death notices: The E-news does not publish obituaries, but it will publish remembrances in the following form: In Memoriam: “Person’s Name,” 19__- 20__.”

Special Events

Contact:

- The Special Events Plan, prepared by the Special Events Committee and kept in the committee’s folder, has the “who/what/when/where” about each event; if that does not answer questions, refer caller to contact person named on the Plan.
- Remind callers: NO MONEY, NO REGISTRATION. Registration is on a first come/first served basis including guests. Closing date is when a decision is made to move forward or cancel an event based on registrations received - Many events have two-tiered pricing: one price for members of Senior College or the YMCA, and another price for those who are members of neither. Membership in other Senior Colleges also qualifies for the lower price. Guests of members pay the higher price.

- Payment for Special Events should be by separate check and not included in checks for payment of membership dues or course registration.
- Wait lists will be on a case-by-case basis and the Special Events Committee contact will advise the Information Desk. The Information Desk volunteer will then attach a wait list roster sheet to that Special Event Roster. We do accept checks for wait list events.
- Senior College special events cancelled by the College will provide for a full refund of all deposits to Senior College members.
- Full refunds will be available to Senior College members who withdraw from a special event at least 7 days prior to the scheduled event. However, we reserve the opportunity to deduct out-of-pocket expenses from the refund.
- Refunds for cancellations inside the one-week period will be available if the participating member recruits a person to take their place on the trip or if the trip is filled from the waiting list.
- In all other cases, no refund will be available.
- Refunds of $25 and under may be provided by a Senior College voucher redeemable toward course fees.

Mileage recipients must commute 25 or more miles (one way) from their location to Hutchinson Center. Mileage reimbursement will be awarded only if the person requests it. The current rate will be at the government approved rate per mile for charitable non-profit organizations for the round trip. The rate will be reviewed annually by the Board, using the GSA rate as the basis.

FACULTY EVALUATION PROCEDURES

Each semester, the Curriculum Committee produces and distributes course feedback forms to each classroom. Forms are distributed on the last day of class for that semester. Faculty are asked to allow a few minutes at the end of the class for students to complete the form. If students must take the form with them, they are asked to mail in their completed evaluation, or drop it off the following Thursday at the Information Desk. The faculty member is later mailed the evaluation forms collected for her/his course.

Membership List Privacy

The Membership List maintained by the Membership Committee is not shared with anyone except OLLI once a year for mailing of the statewide Senior College Annual Conference. OLLI destroys the membership list after mailing.

Honorary and Lifetime Membership

Honorary Membership is awarded to individuals who have made a special contribution to Senior College. The Board of Trustees approves nominations. Such status provides for continued college notices, mailings, and invitations to special celebrations and does not depend on active membership. All Founding Members have been awarded this recognition.

Lifetime Membership is awarded to individuals by the Board of Trustees for their outstanding contribution to the college. This includes free membership, mailings, notices and invitations to special celebrations.

Conflict of Interest

For the purpose of this policy statement, conflict of interest (or the appearance thereof) means that a member of the Board of Trustees is in a position to derive either personal benefit, or benefit to another organization in which that member also serves in a decision-making position, from decisions that he or she would make in his/her official capacity as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Senior College at Belfast.

The Board of Trustees is committed to the principle that it, and each member of the Board, must not have a conflict of interest – or the appearance of a conflict of interest – while engaged in the business of the Senior College. Pursuit of this principle means that:

- 1) if a member of the Board believes that he/she may have a conflict of interest, then that person must promptly bring this to the attention of the Board; and
- 2) if a member of the Board believes that another member of the Board may have a conflict of interest, then he/she should so inform the President of the Board so that the potential issue can be discussed.

If the Board determines that there is either an appearance of, or actual, conflict of interest then the Board shall also:

- 1) determine whether or not the member should be allowed to be involved in any discussion by the Board of the matter about which there is a conflict; and, if so,
- 2) require that the member recuse him/herself from any decision or vote concerning that matter.

Name Tags

Permanent nametags are issued upon payment of membership and will come with Senior College lanyards. They will serve as proof of membership should such be needed so they will indicate the end of the current membership year. The sticker with the membership date is replaceable for future years. There will be applications for new name tags should one be lost.

Scholarships for Membership and Course Offerings

Senior College welcomes people who may not be able to join and attend the college because of limited funds. The college offers scholarships that can cover membership and/or course fees and/or course materials. To apply for a scholarship, a request is submitted to the Senior College president indicating which course(s) is desired, and if financial assistance is requested for membership and/or course fee and/or materials.

Note: The Maine Association of Retirees provides membership fee refunds. Applicants must be members of the Maine Association of Retirees and currently be receiving a pension check from the State as a teacher, school staff, or District/Municipality employee. A receipt will be provided to the member as requested by M.A.R.

Scholarships for Hutchinson Center Students

Senior College, University of Maine Hutchinson Center offers two $1000 scholarships to Maine residents over the age of 35 who are taking classes at the Hutchinson Center and are in need of financial assistance. Senior College recognizes the value of continuing education for adults and the financial strain this can create. The Scholarship Committee of the University of Maine Hutchinson Center selects students to receive this scholarship.

The Treasurer of Senior College reviews the allocation of money and amount each year during the budget proposing session. The Board of Trustees votes annually to approve and determine the amount.

SENIOR COLLEGE HISTORY

In the winter and spring of 2001, a group of Belfast-area leaders, formed into a Steering Committee, planned for a fall start of the Senior College, university of Maine Hutchinson Center. That committee was chaired by Pat Strauss who, along with Hutchinson Center Director Jim Patterson, provided much of the impetus to launch the college. The early planning was guided by the previous start-up experience of a sister college at the University of Southern Maine whose director, Kali Lightfoot, advised our committee and channeled $5,000 in state start-up money to our fledging college.

The Steering Committee drafted by-laws, nominated Board members, recruited volunteer teachers, developed administrative procedures, and signed up members. By September of 2001, our college was ready to go and some 200 attended its first annual membership meeting. The members elected a 15-member Board of Trustees at that meeting and adopted by-laws that spelled out how the college would run. The new board, in turn, elected its officers: John Cheston, Chair and CEO; Mary Frenning, Vice-Chair; Pat Pierson, Secretary; and Ralph Stevenson, Treasurer (soon after replaced by Jerry Kaplan).

Even before the September inaugural, one class was conducted in the summer of 2001. The subject was journal writing and the teachers were Priscilla and Gary Tate of the Texas Christian University faculty, who summer here. The Tates, our first teachers, have continued to teach each year since.

That summer's modest beginning of course offerings was quickly augmented in the fall of 2001, in our first full-fledged term, when 14 courses were given. Whoever argued that we should start slowly and cautiously had been "shouted down". That curriculum momentum was sustained in the spring 2002 term with 16 offerings. The numbers of fall and spring courses has continued in that range ever since.

Also in 2002, we dipped our collegiate toe into the icy waters of winter by offering a financial workshop – a start of what founding Curriculum Chair Betty Becker-Theye dubbed the "winterim". The cold weather experiment succeeded and led to 5 winterim courses in 2003, 6 in 2004, and 8 in 2005. A winter record 249 enrollments were registered in 2005, when we managed our first snow cancellations.

By the winter of 2005, a total of 188 courses had been offered, taught by 64 different instructors. The most frequently offered courses were in history (15 classes), literature (14), religion/philosophy (12), and computers (11). Painting/photography, languages, sciences, and finances were also subjects frequently offered. Among course offerings that defy categorization have been wine, comedy, bicycling, navigation, local politics, aging, genealogy, and antiques.

Some 20 of our teachers came to us from teaching careers at colleges and high schools; others came to our classrooms from a wide variety of non-academic backgrounds. Among these were artists, musicians, businessmen, therapists, clergymen and women, curators, politicians, architects, and financial advisors.

Our talented faculty was not drawn by money to the arduous task of creating a course for our college. They do not get paid. They do, however, get to choose exactly what they want to teach, unhampered by the dictates of a larger curriculum into which most other teachers must fit their courses. Also, they do not have to give tests, grade papers, give grades, or confer credit. Most of all, perhaps, they get to teach students who have had rich life experiences and who are motivated purely by the desire to learn.

These students come from a membership that numbered 445 in our first year, reached a peak of 488 in 2002, and has stayed in that range ever since. Among the statewide network of 15 senior colleges, ours is the second largest. Only the Portland College is larger. Our members have come from some 50 different towns, making ours a truly regional college. They have come from places as far away from Belfast as Hermon, Port Clyde, Blue Hill, and Oakland. From September 2001 through August 2004, we've had 737 different members. Each year, about one-third of our membership has turned over with those who leave the rolls replaced by roughly an equal number of newcomers. Yet 168 have seen “non-stop” members since our founding. Since our beginning, about 150 members have been in married couples. As of the winter of 2005, we’ve not yet had any new intracollege marriages.

This strong membership record did not spring forth spontaneously. Mary Frenning orchestrated a vigorous effort to tell the region about this new kind of college. Starting early in 2001, we planted information on area radio stations, and in newspapers. No civic club was left out, nor were church groups, social and health agencies, retirement facilities, and business groups. We reached out to the arts and educational organizations, historical societies, libraries, garden clubs, veterans groups, realtors, and YMCAs. Announcements were planted in church bulletins and organization’s newsletters. To cap it off, the word was passed person-to-person to friends, co-workers, relatives and passers-by on the street. You were rare among area seniors if you didn’t hear about our college.

No college is complete without extra-curricular activities, so we set out early on to put together a program of special events under the leadership of Sharron Walsh, first, and then Marie Underwood. Field trips were offered to places near (Penobscot Marine Museum, Castine) and far (Quebec City, Prince Edward Island, Boston). The number of trips increased to an average of one per month when we entered into collaboration with the Waldo County YMCA’s Active Older Adults program. We went to plays, the opera, to islands, and to see architectural gems and colorful fall foliage.

On campus events were offered as well, highlighted by antiques appraisal fairs and the annual Senior College Festival of Art that shows the works of area seniors. With such activities we were able to add a welcome cultural dimension to the Hutchinson Center’s offerings.

Starting in 2003, we were given a grant by the Golden Rule Foundation to conduct a special speakers’ series. With grant funds we were able to pay speakers an honorarium and reimburse them for travel expenses. From some 8-10 speakers per year we learned about Willa Cather, Somalis living in Maine, a local musicians’ trip to central Asia, classic jazz with Texas accent, the politics of aging, the working of the CIA, woman’s life in Islamic Iran, and many other varied and fascinating subjects.

This history would comprise only a blank page were it not for the work of volunteers. Nearly everything our college has done has been done without paying people. Topping the list of volunteers has been Jim Patterson, and his Hutchinson Center staff, who don’t get paid for helping us. At the top with them are our instructors, who spend uncounted hours preparing and conducting classes, without any monetary reward. Added to the list are our Board members, officers and committee chairs and members. Volunteers serve as classroom aides, staff the office desk and phones, prepare refreshments and serve as hosts for special gatherings, prepare mailings to members, and pitch in on community service projects. Each year about 100 of us, about one in four of our members, has voluntarily served. Without their work our college wouldn’t work.

As of this writing in the winter of 2005, our Senior College is still at a very young age. Its youthful energy shows no signs of ebbing. Its members are asking, like the old American labor union leader, for more, now. In response, the Board is trying out some off-campus classes in the near future. Among other advantages, these will relieve some of the Thursday daytime space pressures at the Hutchinson Center and will allow us to offer evening classes. These may attract more still working younger seniors who become Senior College eligible when we lowered the membership age to 50 in 2004.

MAINE SENIOR COLLEGE NETWORK

The Maine Senior College Network (MSCN), which began in 1997 at the University of Southern Maine in Portland, is currently a consortium of 18 independent groups from York County to Fort Kent.

There are no tests, no papers, and no grades. Each Senior College group plans exciting, intellectually stimulating non-credit courses (taught by volunteers) and special learning opportunities for adults over the age of 50. Many Senior Colleges sponsor Special Events in the form of lectures or field trips. These events charge appropriate fees to cover expenses. Each Senior College charges around $25.00 for annual membership and what it feels necessary to sustain expenses for courses. Scholarships are available. There is reciprocity between Senior Colleges.

The Maine Senior College network is housed at the Osher Life Long Learning Institute (OLLI), at the University of Southern Maine (USM) in Portland, Maine. The staff and key volunteers at OLLI provide resources and assistance to existing programs.
